

SPECIAL INVITATION

Our experienced staff can help you with all aspects of rod building and they encourage you to call or stop by—see for yourself the largest inventory of rod components in the world. If you want to learn how to build custom rods we will be happy to show you. To get free advice, learn more about rod building, or how to use and sell the products we offer, set aside some time for a visit—you won't regret coming. Since some periods are extremely busy for us, we do request that you call to schedule an appropriate time!

It is necessary to call and set up an appointment so that we can devote uninterrupted time for instruction.

Thank you for your business, support and interest in our products.