

RAIL BOSS

New for 2012 is the Seeker Rail Boss.

For seasoned long range fishermen, fishing the rail is merely the act of hooking a trophy tuna, and putting your favorite rod on the rail to eliminate the stress on your arms, shoulders, and hands. However, for the first time "Long Ranger" it's a different world. They may have fished for Albacore or Yellowtail. Maybe they fished a panga down in Cabo? But the long range experience is a whole different breed. It takes specialized tackle that is built to take the abuses of trophy tuna, wahoo, grouper, and a number of other tackle busting fish. We all know that normally "Specialized" means big price tags and wallet draining receipts at the local tackle shop. Welcome to the world of Rail Fishing and the "Rail Boss" series from Seeker.

The Rail Boss series incorporates a brand new 6'6" 100% E-Glass blank. Actions range conservatively from 50lb to 100lb in 4 different models. These blanks have also been reinforced in the foregrip area to take the added pressures of rail fishing. The finished rods are equipped with Fuji BHBNG heavy duty ring guides that have been triple wrapped for strength in an attractive combination of black, gold, copper, and red colors. They are truly a work of art. The handles come equipped with aluminum reel seats, cork tape underlay for the 3m cold shrink sleeve, and for those who prefer to use their harnesses, the rods are equipped with aluminum gimballs.

All models are modestly priced under $400 and will match up well with all of today's high performance two speed extreme drag pressure reels. If you're ready to start fishing the rail, equip yourself with the Rail Boss from Seeker Fishing Rods.
